

WARS

When he was six he prayed
each night to stop the world war.
No longer innocent,
but unwilling
to give up faith,
he prays to
stop the wars
inside himself.

CALL OF THE NIGHT TRAIN

Lying in bed
after another disheartening day, he hears the night train whistle
loud & clear.
O, Jesus, if it weren't for his wife &
two children,
who love him,
he'd hop that
train tonight &
face the Man.

SIGHT

I wear trifocals.
Lining up sights
on a pistol range
can be confusing.
None of the lenses
gives me a clear
view of both sights
& the target.
Same thing with God.
Can't sight
him in.
